

Skew lattices of idempotents in rings, especially in matrix rings

Jonathan Leech, Westmont College, USA

Skew lattices can arise in rings as multiplicative bands of idempotents that are especially well-behaved. The talk will consider both properties of such skew lattices as well as various classes of examples. Particular attention will be given to examples in matrix rings and to results about them.