Matrix-theoretic methods in the analytic theory of polynomials

Rajesh Pereira, University of Saskatchewan, Canada

We show how classical matrix theoretical techniques can be used to study the relationship between the zeros of a polynomial and those of its derivative.